But a certificate expires and I don't know how to make new one. I tried to upload my keystore and android studio gives me this error I got this when I try to upload again How to solve this problem? I have the project on github if it's needed. A: Just follow the guide, Create a keystore for your debug or release build If the certificate and private key are expired, the keystore will not be created and the build will fail. Import your new key and new certificate and then generate your debug or release build as mentioned in the guide. Sign your APK with the new certificate Hopefully this helps you. If you have more questions, let me know. Where a laser beam is irradiated from a semiconductor laser, a resonator of the semiconductor laser is apt to be damaged. In order to solve such a problem, a semiconductor laser element having a resonator protection function, that is, a function for preventing the occurrence of damage to the resonator of the semiconductor laser by detecting the occurrence of damage to the resonator, and emitting a feedback of the resonator damage to a laser source, is proposed. For example, in a semiconductor laser element having the resonator protection function, a portion of a reflection film of a surface-emitting semiconductor laser is formed to have a band-shaped width which is wider than a band-shaped width of a stripe-shaped portion. In the semiconductor laser element, by thus increasing the band 82157476af
